JANUARY - MARCH 2020

It is only in our darkest hours that we may discover the true strength of the brilliant light within ourselves that can never, ever, be dimmed. ”

Doe Zantamata

Dear All,

As the entire world grapples with the spread of COVID-19, we remind ourselves that these are unprecedented times, and we are all in this together. We hope you and your loved ones are staying safe and healthy.

I hope each of you received and read my email, dated April 1, 2020. The intention of that communication was to convey our overall thoughts and feelings towards the ongoing scenario and also give you the direction in which our business could be headed in the first quarter of the new financial year. There may not be clarity at this stage but we will have to take relevant business calls along the way, during which I would really appreciate your cooperation and understanding.

Taking all this in our stride, the work-from-home policy is in place, which no doubt has become rather challenging for us all to function at our usual pace. However, I have seen a great amount of willingness, flexibility, creativity, initiative, and team spirit among all teams. To run any business successfully, a team of talented and dedicated individuals is required, and fortunately, we have one.

There is but a glimmer of hope even during these unpredictable times. Take this opportunity for what it is - a chance to reflect on oneself. Set goals to achieve during this period and commit wholeheartedly to doing them, be it professional or personal. There is no time like the present to accomplish what you set out to do.

In order to stay focused without losing sight of what is in front of us, here are a few pointers on how to strike that work-life balance from the safety of your home -

- Create a morning routine - Follow a similar routine you used to when you had to get to work at a certain time.
- Keep a dedicated workspace - Allot a certain area in your home to your work. This will help keep you more focused.
- Plan your workflow - Before beginning work, plan out what you have on your plate for that day and what you can accomplish. Don't over burden yourself.
- Take breaks - It is absolutely necessary for one to take breaks from work. This clears up your mind for when you resume.
- Socialise - Don't stay cooped up in your corner for hours on end. Spend quality time with your family/housemates.
- Maintain regular work hours - Stick to the work hours issued by the company. This way you will be able to complete tasks without overworking.

I would like to end this note by reminding everyone this period in our lives is temporary and we shall hopefully soon be able to resume from where we left off.

Thank you all for stepping up to the challenge at a time like this, and wish you and your family the best of health and luck.

Stay home, stay safe.
